The first screenshot shows the browser's address bar with the URL `https://eportal.pwr.edu.pl/course/view.php?id=448`. The 'query string' `?id=448` is highlighted in red.

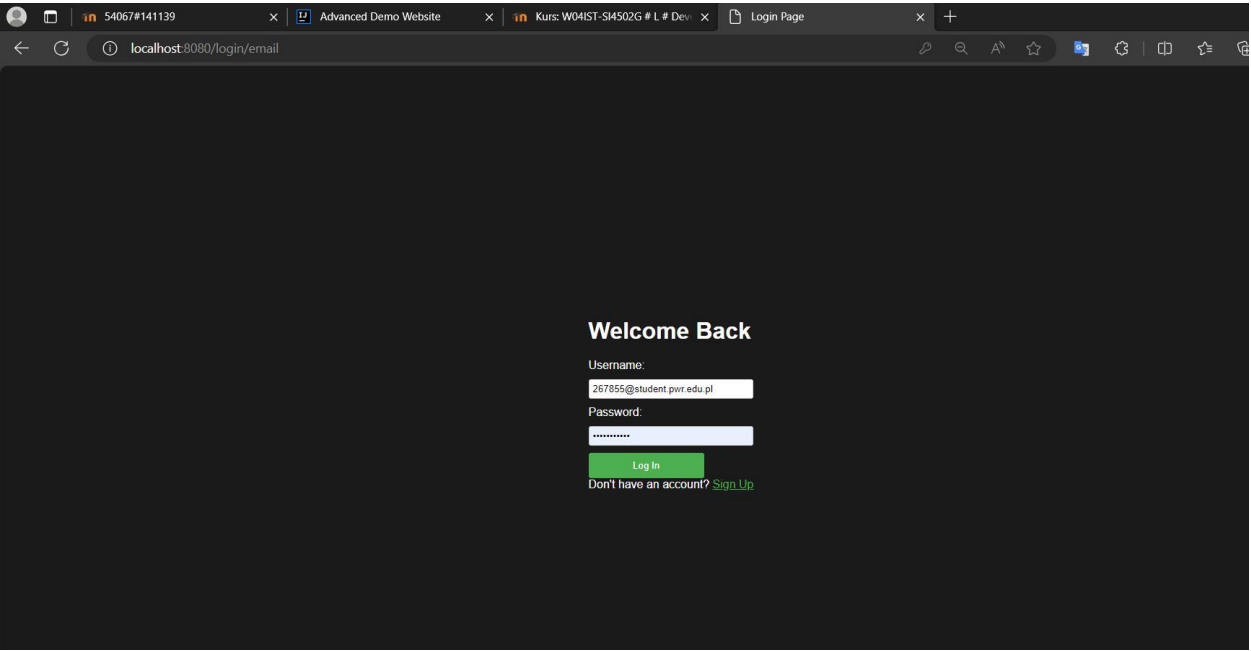

The second screenshot shows the browser's address bar with the URL `https://eportal.pwr.edu.pl/enrol/index.php?id=500`.

Seminarium dyplomowe TIN/TIP

Kokpit / Kursy / USOS / Wydział Informatyki i Telekomunikacji / Seminarium dy

After manually typing id=500 I was redirected to Seminarium dyplomowe TIN/TIP (which is not even my subject). As I think, this endpoint is not secured from the users, that are not enrolled to it).

This is my own website. Here I opened the page for signing in, where there are two input fields used to make post request

We can ensure that it is definitely post request here. By the way, 302 status code was got because of not existing user trying to log in.
